

By President Henry B. Eyring
First Counselor in the First Presidency

The Yellow ANGELS

A few days ago, I visited Florida, USA, after Hurricane Irma hit. I met a group of Latter-day Saints who were helping clean up. They had left Georgia at 4:00 in the morning, driven for hours, worked into the night, and worked again the next day!

As we were leaving, a man walked up to our car and said, "I'm not a member of your church. I can't believe what you have done for us. God bless you." Other members of the Church from that part of Florida went hundreds of miles to another part of Florida that was hit even harder.

I have heard that some people have started calling the Latter-day Saints who are wearing the yellow Helping Hands T-shirts "the Yellow Angels."

When hard things happen, we can remember the Lord's promise in D&C 84:88: "I will go before your face. I will be on your right hand and on your left, and my Spirit shall be in your hearts, and mine angels round about you, to bear you up."

Sometimes you will be the angel the Lord sends to bear others up. Sometimes you will be the one surrounded by angels who bear you up. But always you will have His Spirit in your heart. You have only to keep His commandments.

help

The Lord Jesus Christ knows you, He loves you, and He watches over you. I so testify and leave you my blessing and my love. ♦

Adapted from "Fear Not to Do Good," Ensign, Nov. 2017.

What can you do for someone who needs help?

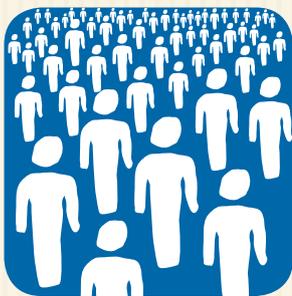

CONFERENCE

News

Listening Together

Elder Neil L. Andersen talked about how people all over the world listen to general conference.

Millions of faithful people...

in more than 200 countries...

speaking more than 93 languages...

watch or read the conference messages!

Conference Quiz!

1. Who was the faithful pioneer woman Elder M. Russell Ballard told about? (Hint: Her story was in last month's Friend!)
2. What Primary song did the choir sing in the Sunday afternoon session? (Hint: It has the word "Savior" in it.)
3. How many years has President Eyring read the Book of Mormon every day? (Hint: Add 3+2, then multiply by 10.)

Answers: Jane Manning James, "If the Savior Stood Beside Me," 50

Conference Quotes

"The things you learn in Primary prepare you for the additional truths you learn."

President Dieter F. Uchtdorf,
Second Counselor in the First Presidency

"Our Savior, Jesus Christ, is the Light of the World, and He beckons us to follow Him."

Elder Ian S. Ardern of the Seventy

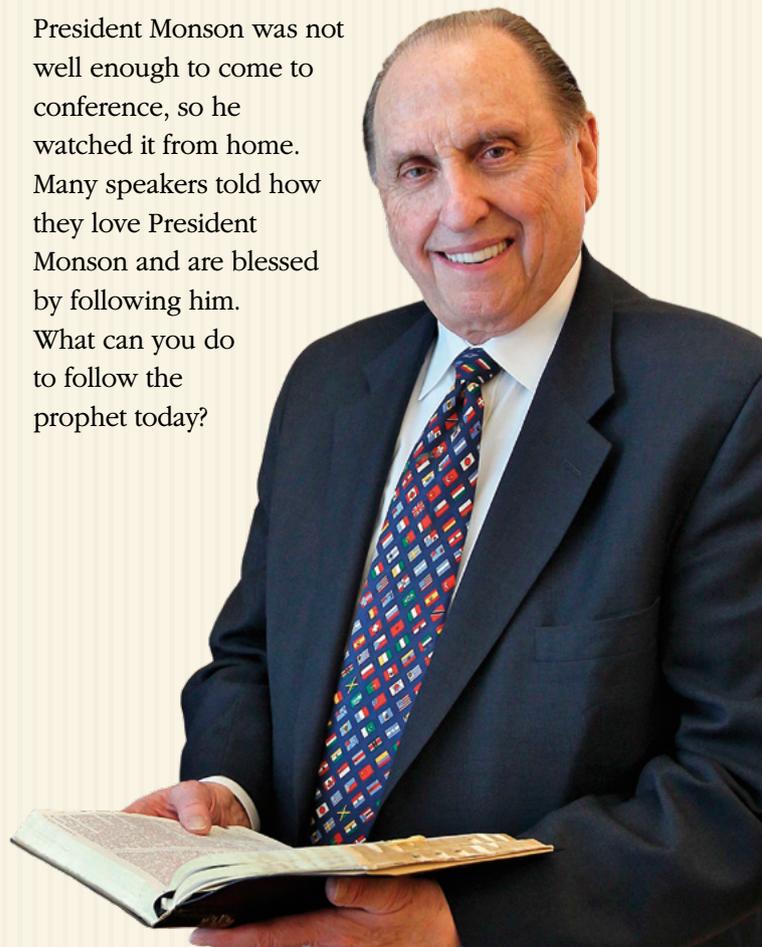

"You are the future leaders in this Church, and it will be up to you to carry this light forward."

Sister Sharon Eubank, First Counselor in the Relief Society General Presidency

We Missed You, President Monson!

President Monson was not well enough to come to conference, so he watched it from home. Many speakers told how they love President Monson and are blessed by following him. What can you do to follow the prophet today?

Show and tell CONFERENCE!

I liked when Elder Oaks said we should show love for all people.

Elijah D., age 5, Utah, USA

I was very happy to learn that the Lord can help us solve our problems through our prayers.

Daryl Z., age 6, Copiapó Province, Chile

I love to hear about temples and the promises we can make with Heavenly Father. I'm going to the Preston England Temple to be sealed with my family soon!

Rhia K., age 5, West Yorkshire, England

I love general conference because I always have my questions answered. My whole body is 100% filled with truth, and I can strongly feel that what they say is real. It makes me so happy.

Yared P., age 11, Maharashtra, India

I learned about miracles and that I can look for miracles in my life. Being a child of God is a miracle.

London B., age 7, Alberta, Canada

Emilia D., age 8, Sør-Trøndelag, Norway

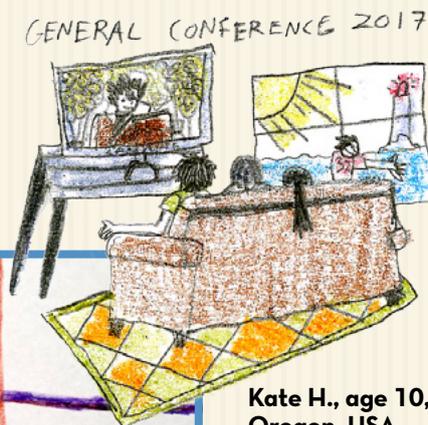

Isabel W., age 10, Utah, USA

My Grandma Takes Me To General conference

ISABEL W.
AGE 10
UTAH, USA

Rebecca K., age 10, Wisconsin, USA

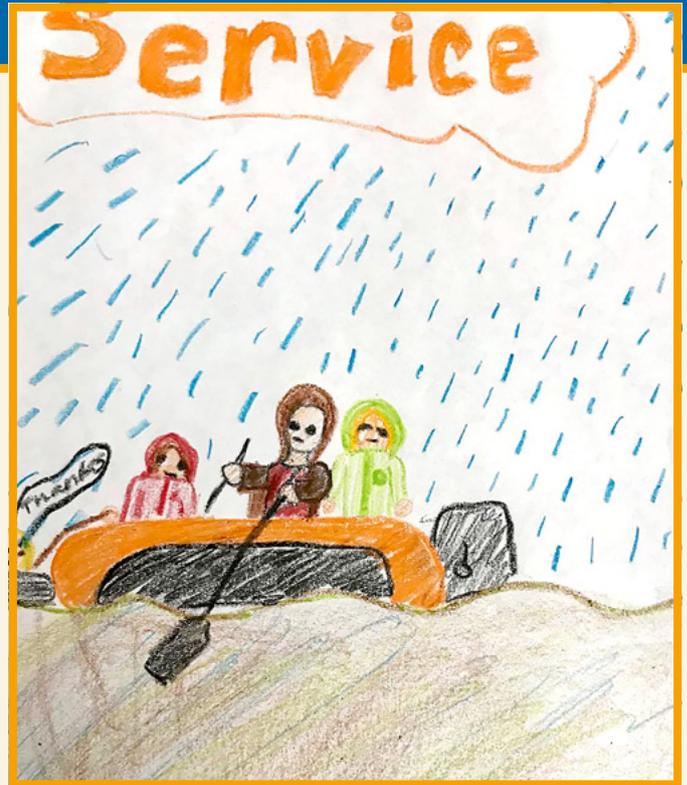

Kate H., age 10, Oregon, USA

Simon P., age 7, Colorado, USA

Jordan and Alyssa H., ages 6 and 10, Pennsylvania, USA, had a picnic at the church building between sessions of conference!

Tavis S., age 12, Idaho, USA, drew his favorite thing about conference—the stories about the service done after hurricanes.

"I feel the love of Jesus Christ as I watch general conference," said Josalin G., age 9, Sonora, Mexico. She watched conference with her sister, Jennifer, age 7, and their brother, Jesus, age 11, who said that listening to the speakers fills his heart with joy.

Joseph M., age 7, Georgia, USA, helped pull an extension cord under the pews to set up the projector so ward members could watch general conference at their church building.

The Nalla family, Maharashtra, India, rides a motor scooter to church to watch general conference.

CONFERENCE Notes

Bobbie the Wonder Dog

A family lost their dog, Bobbie, while on vacation. Six months later, Bobbie showed up on their doorstep. It looked like he had walked all the way across the country to get back home!

President Uchtdorf taught that each of us has a desire within us to return to our heavenly home. We are all on a journey together and will one day see our Heavenly Parents again.

What this teaches me:

The Light of the Son

Elder Stevenson taught that sometimes the moon lines up just right with the sun and almost completely blocks its light, even though the moon is much smaller. This is called a total solar eclipse. Just like the eclipse, when we focus on our daily problems (like the small moon) instead of our eternal gospel blessings (like the large sun), it makes it harder for us to see and feel the light of Jesus Christ in our lives.

What this teaches me:

Never Too Young to Serve

Sister Oscarson told the story of a 10-year-old girl named Sarah. When her mom was sick, Sarah helped her little sister get dressed, brush her teeth, fix her hair, and eat breakfast. Because of Sarah's service, her mom was able to get some extra rest. Sister Oscarson taught that you're never too young to serve. Children can strengthen their families.

What this teaches me:

Forever a Family

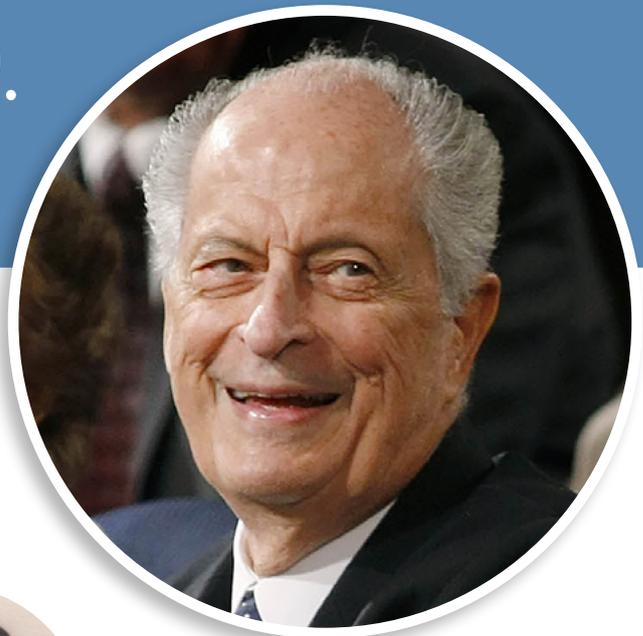

When Elder Parrella was a boy, his family didn't know about the Church. He once asked his mother if she would still be his mom when they were in heaven. She didn't know the answer. Later, Elder Parrella was happy to learn from the missionaries that families can be together after this life. We will still be fathers, mothers, sons, and daughters.

What this teaches me:

Remembering Elder Robert D. Hales (1932-2017)

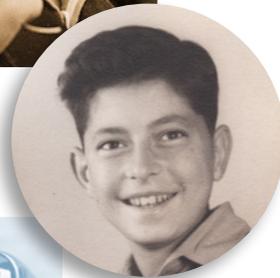

Elder Robert D. Hales of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles passed away on October 1, 2017. He was 85 years old.

Elder Hales was born on August 24, 1932, in New York City. Robert liked playing with his older brother and sister in their backyard on Long Island, New York. His favorite sport was baseball, and he played on his high school and college baseball teams.

Robert learned how to serve from his parents. When his mother was Relief Society president, Robert helped her deliver food to those in need. He helped his dad take care of the sacrament trays and cloths. Their family helped keep the outside of the church building clean.

After high school, Robert studied business at college and came home for the summers. One summer he met Mary Crandall. For the next two months, they spent every evening together helping each other do chores and sharing family activities. They were married in 1953 in the Salt Lake Temple and had two children. After graduating from college, Robert served as a jet fighter pilot for the United States Air Force. He got a master's degree in business from Harvard University and then worked for large international companies. He and his family lived in England, Germany, Spain, and different parts of the United States. Wherever he went, he tried to be an example of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Elder Hales served as president of the England London Mission and in many other callings before he was called as an Apostle in 1994. He said, "Live your life to be a good example of what you believe—in word and deed."* Like Elder Hales, each of us can be a good example wherever we live! ♦

* "Preserving Agency, Protecting Religious Freedom," Ensign, May 2015, 113.