

May Thy Day Star Rise in Me
(Inspired by D&C 88 and 2 Peter 1:19)

As sun and moon roll on their wings
And by Thy holy reckonings,
Do give their light by night and day,
So Father may my life portray
Thy glory and Thy majesty;
Then may Thy Day Star rise in me.

In darkness, still, Thy light transcends
Though darkness doth not comprehend.
Yet may I know Thee, by Thy will,
And may Thy true light in me dwell.
Thus quickened, then, am I in Thee,
Then may Thy Day Star rise in me.

When I have taught mine eye to be
Kept single to Thy majesty,
Then may my soul be filled with light,
And former darkness flee my sight.
When by Thy will and in the way
Thou chooseth, Lord, unveil Thy face;
Oh Father, hear my humble plea
And will Thy Day Star rise in me.

Text by Toni Thomas

© 2007 by Toni Thomas

This text may be used, copied for incidental, noncommercial church or home use.