

A black and white map showing the western part of Iowa, the eastern part of Illinois, and the northern part of Missouri. The state boundaries are outlined with a thick black line. Three locations are marked with black dots and labeled: Spring Hill (Aadam-on-di-Ahman) in the north-central part of Iowa, Far West in the central part of Iowa, and Independence in the southern part of Iowa. The names of the states are printed in large, bold, uppercase letters: IOWA at the top, ILLINOIS on the right, and MISSOURI at the bottom right.
