When the Time is Right

Sometimes you don't know where to go. And look to the heavens for a sign.

And you wait for some direction. But nothing's coming down the line.

Though you're not sure which road to take. Keep moving forward any way.

And when the time is right right.

You'll find your answer when the time is right.
You'll know what to do

You may wonder why and feel your

Patience running dry

But if you move towards the light you'll make it through

When the time is right Ooh

When the time is right Ooh

Some times you don't know what to do

And you don't want to make mistakes

But you have a light inside of you

And you don't have to be afraid

It's all right not to know
'Cause it grows brighter as you go
And when the time is right
You'll find your answer when the time is right
You'll know what to do
You may wonder why and feel your patience running dry
But if you move towards the light you'll make it through
When the time is right Ooh
When the time is right Ooh

He trusts you to make a good decision sometimes
He just wants you to choose
